Still there has been no killing frost
Outside calls on hotel phones in Louisville now cost a dime.

Socialists elected H. H. Vogt, a tin ner, mayor of Massillon, Ohio.

And there stood Christian county
in the dry column by 1021 majority.

Hopkinsville gave 1104 votes to Morrow and 939 to Black, a Republican majority of 165.

Philadelphia elected J. H. Moore,
Republican, mayor of Philadelphia
by 197,241 majority.

It is a year today since the armistice was signed and the former kaiser is still unpunished.

Republicans in Louisville are to have a big Rastusation meeting to jubilate over the outcome.

Gov. Black carried Trigg by 26, and Hanbery, Republican, had 32
majority for Representative.

In Paducah Tom Hazelip was given another quietus, being defeated by F. W. Katterjohn for mayor by 86 votes.

Speaking of luck, R. M. Isler was defeated for Mayor at Hickman by 13 votes, by J. O. West.

Will P. Scott was re-elected Mayor of Dawson over C. B. Lisansky, who ran on a labor ticket.

Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.
was elected to the New York legislature by a big majority over Elias Raff, Democrat.

President Ebert, the kaiser's successor, was formerly a harness maker. He out to know how to hold the lines.

Ritchie, Democrat, seems to have defeated Nice, Republican, for Governor of Maryland by a small majority but Nice refuses to concede his defeat.

The last of the senate amendments was defeated Thursday and an immediate vote was presented by Republican objections. In the meantime the war has been officially declared to be over.

President Wilson has proclaimed Nov. 27th as Thanksgiving Day. Let us hope that the Republican Senate will give us something to be thankful for, at least by that time.

At Evansville Miss Norma Julia Ebert changed her pretty name to Mrs. Henry Damm. She must have cared for him to take him with a name like that.

Oklahoma will probably never again try the experiment of having a blind Senator like Gore. In these days a Democratic leader must not only have eyes but must keep them
open, and be able to see the point.

Gov.-elect Morrow is already committed to the appointment of a non-partisan board of control of seven members, two of them women. Now watch him forget all about it.

In all, 155 women have been elected to the various legislative bodies of Germany, out of a total of 2,330 and only seven small states are without them in their parliaments.

Premier Clemenceau has asked for the resignation of Blockade Minister Albert Le Brun for voting against the ratification of the peace treaty. Even France, it seems, has Reeds and Borahs.

The Kentuckian's advertising is still forcing it to issue extra pages, its subscription lists are steadily growing and the job department is crowded with business. For all of which we are preparing to be duly thankful on the 37th.

The Government has ruled that it can not legally call upon Mexico to refund the $150,000 ransom paid to Mexican bandits for W. O. Jenkins'— release, upon the ground that the Mexican government was not responsible.

The Irish Republican party has decided that Irish girls who keep company with British government forces are to be penalized by having their hair cut off. Any girl who would give her heart away would care nothing for her curls. One girl has already bowed to the scissors.

BLACK CONGRATULATES
THE GOVERNOR-ELECT

Hon Edwin P. Morrow,
Louisville, Ky.
My dear sir: In the election held yesterday you received a majority of the votes cast for the governorship of Kentucky for the next four years, and I congratulate you. As a result of said election you have the opportunity to give to Kentucky that creditable administration which I had determined to give in the event of my election, and I wish you all success in that accomplishment.
Sincerely yours,
JAMES D. BLACK.

Gov. James D. Black arrived in Louisville yesterday and immediately sent a letter of congratulation to Edwin P. Morrow, Governor-elect.
Governor Black then prepared a statement setting out the causes which, in his belief, were responsible for the defeat of the Democratic ticket.
Five main points are covered by Gov. Black. He says that he lost the centers of population because of his stand as a "dry" man; that the pro-Germans, who were opposed to President Wilson because his policies defeated Germany, also sided against him because of his known espousal of the League of Nations; that he was unjustly injured by the Armstrong matter; that the handbills distributed among the miners by Republicans denouncing President Wilson cost him
many votes, and Governor Black discusses what his friends called the handicap of the Stanley administration.

RAWN & SMITH THE ESSAYISTS

At An Excellent Meeting Of the Athenaeum, Fully Attended.

Despite the rain Thursday night,
the Athenaeum meeting was an unusually good one. Only six of the members were absent. Two good papers were read. E. V. Rawn took as his subject "Who Pays?" and read a strong and well prepared paper on the various phases of the labor question.

He was followed by Rev. E. S.
Smith on "Ethical Standards," a splendid paper with a strong religious flavor, the writer taking the ground that the Bible furnished the only safe guide in the dealings of men with each other.

Both papers were discussed for an hour or more and the meeting was full of interest.

Dr. Austin Bell's resignation was accepted with regret. Three vacancies now exist, to be filled at the next meeting.

Those present were President Jas.
A. McKenzie, A. H. Eckles, J. W.
Gaines, Geo. E. Gary, L. E. Foster,
W. T. Fowler, Iro L. Smith, H. W.

TO CELEBRATE ARMISTICE DAY 37 NEGROES GET SENTENCE

Public Meeting At Tabernacle Thursday With Patriotic Speeches
By Soldiers.

All arrangements for the big Armistice Day celebration at the Union Tabernacle on next Thursday afternoon are being completed. The Christian County Chapter of the American Legion and the Red Cross are hard at work to make the affair worthy of the day which it celebrates.

There will be quite a number of four-minute speeches on live subjects, dealing with the war, the issues of reconstruction, and 100 per cent Americanism.

The speakers will be all ex-soldiers. The Blue and the Gray will be represented, the Spanish-American War Veterans will have their speaker, and the Veterans and Nurses of the Great War will compose the remainder.

Lebkuecher's band will play patriotic music, and Mr. Hohgatt will lead the audience in community singing.

KING GEORGE SAYS KAISER WELL PUNISHED

London, Nov. 6.—King George gave his view of the former German emperor in the course of an audience
with a missionary from Armenia, Archibald Forder. When the missionary told the story of his captivity of four years, saying that the troubles had been instigated by the Germans, the king replied:

"Well, they are finished now. The kaiser has had to run away from his own country. He is well punished for all he did."

REPORT TREATY WILL BE EFFECTIVE NOV. 28

Paris, Nov. 5.—The treaty of Ver-

Germany will become effective, it is asserted in well informed circles in Paris, on Nov. 28. The signature of the protocol and the exchange of ratifications between Germany and such allied or associated powers as have then ratified the treaty will take place on that date, it is reported.

CAMPAIGN VICTORY WEEK APPROACHES

With but three weeks ahead of the Baptists in Kentucky, the interest in the Campaign and the talk of victory Week is so hard on the minds of the people that everywhere they are looking forward to December 7th, when they are confident that the six and a half million dollars will be more than raised. The people are giving themselves to this work in a peculiar way and their interest is centered upon the big drive which is to be made. The organization of the church is such that a number of teams will receive pledges and cash
for this great undertaking of November 30th. It is their expectation to raise this money in one day's time.

A newspaper symposium in Eng-

INJUNCTION CASE COMES UP TO-DAY

RUMORS THAT IT MAY GO OVER AT INDIANAPOLIS FOR ONE WEEK

GOMPERS AND AMES CLASH

Promise Made That If Injunction Is Withdrawn Miners Will Go To Work.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Still hoping that court developments at Indianapolis Saturday night point the way to an early ending of the coal strike, Government agents nevertheless put forward renewed and more determined efforts yesterday to protect the public against distress almost certain to result from a protracted suspension of mining operations.

Realizing that the country is burning about three times as much coal as the mines are turning out, the railroad administration, the great coal distributing agency, through its recently created central coal committee took drastic action in ordering that the supplying of coal to foreign-owned ships in American ports
be stopped immediately.

With calls for assistance from communities suffering from a coal shortage growing more numerous, the railroad administration turned loose
every available car to meet the appeals made for fuel.

Before leaving Washington for Indianapolis Assistant Attorney General Ames, in charge of the Government's case, declared there was no change in its policy toward the strike and that he would endeavor to obtain a renewal of its temporary injunction.

There were rumors, apparently emanating from high sources, that the injunction hearing set for Saturday might go over one week without prejudice to either side. Equally persistently were reports that Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, would make a personal appeal to Attorney-General Palmer tomorrow for withdrawal of the restraining order and all court proceedings on assurances that if this were done the strike could be settled and the men put to work in the mines in forty-eight hours. Mr. Palmer was out of the city, but the statement by Judge Ames that the Government would not compromise the strike, which it held illegal, was accepted as the last word on the subject.

INCREASE IN MAJORITY

No Radical Change, However, and Morrow's Lead Will Be
27,000.

Additional returns from the race
for Governor only served to increase the majority of Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, over James D. Black, Democrat, and it is probable that the official count will show a majority for the Republicans of over 27, 000.

Pendleton county, in the Sixth district, has been heard from and gives Gov. Black a majority of less than 100, thus effectively putting the quietus on any hope that might have remained of the Democrats carrying the Sixth District.

Morrow carried the Third, Fourth,
Fifth, Sixth, Ninth, Tenth and Eleventh Districts, while Gov. Black received majorities in the First, Second, Seventh and Eighth.

MOVE TO THIS CITY.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis and little daughter, Anne Evelyn, left this week for Hopkinsville to make their future home. Mr. Davis has been promoted to the position of supervisor for the insurance company he has been with for some time and has eight counties in his district. He will also engage in the real estate business. The best wishes of many friends go with Mr. Davis and his splendid family into their new home.

PROFITEER IS HELD TO BLAME

PALMER LINKS UP THE HOARD-ER AS PARTNER IN THE HIGH PRICES

SAVING IS GREATLY NEEDED

Licensing of Corporations and Publication of Production Costs
Other Remedies.

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—Attorney General Palmer, in a statement issued in advance of the fair price conference called by Governor Sproul, declared that profiteering and hoarding are responsible for a considerable part of the prevailing high prices. He said that it has been the policy of this department whenever possible to force hoarded goods
into the nominal channels of trade.

Describing efforts of the department of justice to drive down the cost of living, Attorney General Palmer speaking before a meeting of the fair price committee, mayors of cities and state officials of Pennsylvania
here, declared that if the people would increase their saving by 10 per cent, the cost of living would fall 20 per cent in a brief period of time.

Mr. Palmer attacked the "buy-now" campaign, declaring that "our job is to wait, both in our interest and in the interest of the nation and the world at large, that the demand may be lightened." He called upon the "plain people" to wear their old clothes a little longer, to refuse to buy until production had caught up with the demand. Unless the people themselves take this step the attorney general said, the nation cannot expect to have anything but discomfort and disorder.

Mr. Palmer urged that the country vigorously support "some of the newly proposed legislation "which would place the strong arm of the government over powerful corporations." He spoke of the proposed licensing of institutions doing an interstate business and the pending bills providing for marking costs on package goods. If the production costs were known, he said, the American trait of being stubborn will end a lot of gouging for a few of us will be driven into anything.

Labor was called to account for any lethargy in production by Mr.
Palmer. He branded idlers as sinners, and declared idlers could result in only one thing, at this time, discontent.

"This is a critical hour in the life of our country," he continued. The test is being made whether the government has the right and the power to protect all the people from a national disaster which would be inflicted upon them by a single group
for its own advantage."

Mr. Palmer said that the coal strike involves more than a dispute over wages, hours or conditions of capital; that the offer of a peaceful settlement has been rejected and that the government face the alternative of submitting to demands of a group or "challenging the assertion by that group, of power greater than that of the government itself."

ELECTION AFTERMATH

Viewed from a national standpoint, the five state elections held Tuesday were a dog fall. Not counting Mississippi the political importance attached to Maryland and New Jersey that went Democratic and Kentucky and Massachusetts that went Republican. In Maryland the Republicans made gains but not enough to overcome the Democratic majority. In Massachusetts the Republican governor running for re-election was forced to take the law and order end of the labor situation, and won by 124,000. In Kentucky and New Jersey the dominant party was in each instance changed by the liquor interests. In New Jersey the wets backed Edwards, Democrat, overturning a Republican majority of 58,000 and carrying the State by 15,000. In Kentucky the same interests backed Morrow, changing a small Democratic majority into a Republican majority of 30,000.

Unquestionably the result in New Jersey was disappointing to the Republicans, but they excuse it on the ground that it was a wet and dry fight and that the conspicuous gains in Kentucky and Maryland where normally the Democrats are predominant, were worth thinking about. Certainly the wet and dry issue worked different ways in different states. In New Jersey where the Democratic candidate was outspoken on the wet side considerable assistance was derived from the president's veto of the Prohibition Enforcement bill, while in Kentucky where Democrats nominated a dry candidate the Republicans swept the State by nearly 30,000, with the aid of the vote of the salubrious voters who turned to Morrow hoping that he would not control them with troops should the strike be protracted.

Wets in Washington are jubilant over the victory they won in Kentucky and New Jersey and agreed that the dry triumph in Ohio was a foregone conclusion. Yet disinterested observers see little opportunity for any comfort to the wet or dry side in the elections because Kentucky, where whiskey making is not at all an insignificant industry hardly furnishes a fair test on the issue and the result in populous Ohio is offset by the victory for the wets in populous New Jersey.

Most gratifying, too, from a neutral standpoint is the fact that neither side won a landslide. For party politicians are apt to permit election results to affect them too easily. And just now a complicated election result with hardly a clear cut party victory for either side will make both parties in Congress more responsive to public opinion and less interested in the votes of special classes than they otherwise might have been.

In the midst of coal strikes and industrial crises and a serious controversy over foreign policy, elections will this year be of ephemeral interest and significance with the single exception of Massachusetts where the defeat administered to lawlessness will remain as a lesson to both parties and will serve especially to stiffen the backs of those Democratic officials who have feared that the attitude of the Wilson administration in fighting the strikes might be politically disastrous.

Leaders of Russia's Soviet government have banned the giving of Christian names to children, it is reported, because they are considered "remnants of the reactionary system." It is expected an order will be issued soon forbidding their use. Numbers are to be substituted. Thus three children of a family named Petkoff may in future be known as Petkoff one, two and three," respectively.

ARTHUR BAUGH NAVAL HERO

On Visit To His Brother, T. J. Baugh and Accompanied By His English Bride.

Arthur Baugh, chief machinist's mate, of the United States Navy, stationed now at Charleston, S. C., is here on a visit to his brother, Thos. J. Baugh. This is Mr. Baugh's first visit here in ten years. He enlisted in the Navy from Dallas, Tex., in 1907 and served in the Atlantic torpedo boat service throughout the entire war.

He was on the Fanning in 1917 and was assigned to duty off the coast of Ireland, with a base in Ireland. He was in London, in 1914 when England declared war on Germany and caught the war fever long before America entered into it.

Mr. Baugh saw constant service for a period of 20 months and had many exciting experiences. He is suffering from a loss of hearing in one ear, the ear drum having been destroyed by shell shock. Mr. Baugh was present and took part in the sinking of the first U-boat by the Fanning. The sub was seen to submerge when the little torpedo boat hurried to the scene of disappearance and dropped depth bombs that damaged the boat and caused it to come to the surface. It had a crew of 50 men and 49 jumped into the water and were picked up as prisoners. The other man opened all the valves and went down with the sub.

Mr. Baugh says he has personal knowledge of the destruction of four subs by the Fanning and later the Rowan on which he served. His boats engaged in at least 50 encounters and he believes that many such were successful in sending the U-boats to the bottom with all of those in charge of them.

Mr. Baugh was married on July 4, 1918, at Manchester, England, to Miss Nell Thorley, of London, who was engaged in war work when he met her. After their marriage, Mrs. Baugh moved to the American base in Ireland, where she made her home until the war ended. She is now living at Charleston, S. C., where her husband is stationed when not at sea. She is here with him, visiting his Kentucky relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Baugh expect to return to Charleston next week.

GOV.-ELECT MORROW.

Edwin P. Morrow, Governor-elect of Kentucky, was born in Somerset, Pulaski county, November 30, 1877; the son of the late Thomas Z. Morrow and Jennie Bradley Morrow.

For many years his father was one of the leaders of the Republican party in the State.

His mother was a sister of the late W. O. Bradley, long a prominent figure in Republican politics in Kentucky.

"Ed," as he was familiarly called by friends and acquaintances, was educated in the public school of Kentucky and Williamsburg Academy, a Baptist institution at Williamsburg. He was graduated from Cincinnati Law School in 1902.

Following his graduation he located in Lexington, where he practiced law. In 1903 he married Miss Katherine Waddell, daughter of the late Judge W. O. Waddell, Somerset, and established a law office there. He soon became widely known as an orator and lawyer of ability.

During the incumbency of President Taft Mr. Morrow was United States District Attorney for the Eastern District of Kentucky. Four years ago he was defeated by A. O. Stanley by 471 votes in the gubernatorial race. Last May he was elected as candidate when the Republican State Convention met in Lexington. He was unopposed.

During the Spanish-American war he volunteered, with his twin brother, in the Kentucky State Guard, being attached to the 4th Kentucky Regiment, under Col. Colston. His brother was a member of the 1st Kentucky Regiment, under the late Gen. John B. Castleman.

For a time he was seriously ill in Lexington. His brother continued in active service and after peace was declared he entered the Regular Army and is now a colonel in command of a regiment in Siberia.

REDFIELD'S RESIGNATION

Correspondence between President Wilson and William C. Redfield in the matter of the latter's resignation as Secretary of Commerce, which took effect November 1, was made public today at the White House. Paying tribute to Mr. Redfield's successful administration, the President expressed regret at the loss of his "efficient, active and watchful service" as Secretary of Commerce.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui. By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

CUTS SUGAR FROM $4.50 TO $1

Spool of Thread Drops From $6 to $1.60 After Relief Ship Reaches Roumania.

Bucharest.—When the American Red Cross and the American relief administration commenced work here several months ago, sugar was selling at $4.50 a pound, and was almost impossible to obtain even at that price.

Today it is still scarce, but can be purchased at somewhere around $1, due to the relief shipments.

A "Hoover" ship with 900 tons of milk, about 3,000 tons of fat, and 3,000 tons of other foods, recently arrived at Constantza. These supplies did much to improve the situation.

Food is not the only commodity which has taken a fall. In the last month the price of thread has dropped from $6 to $1.60 a spool. A speculator who recently brought in a trunkload of cotton thread realized a profit of $8,000 on his enterprise.

Tickets on the weekly train between Bucharest and Paris bring a premium as high as $200.

WEDDING BELLS

BRILLIANT WEDDING

Elizabeth Cayce Becomes the Bride of Mr. Wesley P. Dalton.

On Thursday evening at 6:30 o'clock, Miss Elizabeth Cayce and Mr. Wesley P. Dalton were married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Cayce, on South Main Street.

The beautiful home was tastily decorated with Southern smilax and cut flowers and a white covered aisle led from the staircase thru the hall and library to the altar under the archway between the dining room and library.

Hanging from the center of the arch was a huge wedding bell in green and white with yellow ribbon streamers running to the corners of the room.

Before the ceremony, Mrs. Emmett Haydon sang "I Love You Truly" and "Beauty's Eyes." The wedding party entered to the tune of the wedding march played by Miss Mary Virginia Stevens. First came the two bridesmaids, Misses Lena Clark and Grace Davis, carrying ribbons which formed an aisle from the stairway to the altar. Both were gowned in georgette crepe, Miss Clark wearing yellow and carrying white chrysanthemums, and Miss Davis wearing orchid and carrying yellow chrysanthemums. Both wore black evening hats.

Next came the matron of honor, Mrs. Joe F. Poyner, a sister of the bride. She wore a beautiful dress of flesh georgette and a silver lace evening hat, and carried pink chrysanthemums. Little Miss Elizabeth Peyton Frankel, charming in a dress of pink organdie with a lace hat, followed with a pink French basket trimmed with a blue tulle bow from which the spread rose petals for the bride's pathway.

The bride looking most beautiful, in a white satin gown with a court train and bride's veil caught with orange blossoms, entered upon the arm of her father. She carried a bride's bouquet of white roses, orchids and lilies of the valley.

The bride's party were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Latham L. Davis, the minister, Rev. E. S. Smith, and the ring bearer, Master Frank Quarles Cayce—who wore a white satin suit—and carried a blue satin pillow with the ring in a pink rose.

The ring ceremony was used and After the ceremony, a reception was held and the wedding cake was cut.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm D. Frankel, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cayce, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackson, Misses Mary Clark and Elizabeth Cayce and Messrs. Durwood and Gordon Cayce received the guests.

The happy young couple left on the night train for a trip to Chicago and other points north.

The bride is one of the most charming of the young society girls in the city. She was the recipient of many social honors before the wedding.

Mr. Dalton is the son of Mrs. Cora Manson and is president of the Dalton Davis Motor Company and one of the city's most sterling young business men.

Tutt-Fleming.
Harold Tutt and Miss Josie Fleming, of Howell, were granted license to wed on Thursday. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Fleming and the groom is a prosperous young farmer.

METHODISTS SAVE ORPHANS

Southern Church Buys Homes in Brussels and Belgrade and Support Refugees.

The Centenary Commission of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will specialize in caring for the children in Belgium, Serbia and other stricken countries of Europe, according to an announcement made by Dr. W. B. Beauchamp, the director-general. Dr. Beauchamp and a church commission have just returned from Europe.

PROF. FOSTER'S MANLY CARD

On the face of the incomplete returns, it seems that the Democratic party in Kentucky was hopelessly defeated Tuesday and that, of course, means that I was defeated along with the ticket. There were many elements that entered into this defeat over which I had no control and which I do not care to discuss publicly.

I accept my defeat without cavil or complaint and stand ready to serve my successful opponent in the interest of the schools of the State in any and every possible way.

I wish to thank publicly the Democrats who managed the campaign in this county for one of the best organizations ever witnessed in Christian county and for the unswerving loyalty of the Democrats of this county. The Democrats of this county were united as never before in the history of the party and I have the full consolation of knowing that Christian county contributed nothing to the success of the Republican ticket from the Democratic side of the house. Returning from this county, show that I ran one hundred votes ahead of my ticket, which indicates that I have a good many Republican friends who were willing to lay aside party lines and vote for the man. To these faithful friends I owe a debt of gratitude.

Though defeated, I am neither discouraged or despondent, but shall walk with head up, holding myself in readiness to serve my host of friends who have stood loyally behind me in this fight.
Nov. 5, 1919. L. E. FOSTER.

For this purpose a large home, formerly a famous boys' school, has been purchased at Uccle, a suburb of Brussels. Several hundred children can be accommodated in this building, and the Methodists will assume entire responsibility for them and their future.

Another home has been bought at Belgrade, Serbia, and here the underfed orphans of the Southern Slavs will be given medical attention and cared for. A staff of women physicians, secured from Scotland, will be in charge of this home.

Still another orphanage has been taken over at Faversham, England. This home already contains more than a hundred Siberian children, orphaned refugees who were taken from their homes during the Austrian invasion.

ASKS RECALL OLD SHAMANISM

Wings Throw Light on Superstitions of Alaska.

LICIT FAITH OF NATIVES

of in Words and Actions of the Shaman So Strong Whole Tribes could Go Hungry Rather Than Incur His Displeasure by Eating Foods Which He Tabooed—Land Otter Too Sacred to Be Killed.

asks in the possession of Joseph of Valdez, Alaska, carved from a single piece of wood, brightly colored, with long wooden tendrils protruding from the top of the head like evil fish's arm, recall to those familiar with the natives of Alaska their old shamanism.

Shamanism, or superstition and sorcery, always has played an important part in the life of the Alaskan native. Implicitly did these natives of many years ago believe in the words and actions of the shaman that whole tribe would go hungry rather than incur his displeasure by eating foods which he had tabooed.

The shaman attained his position of power by unusual methods. By the aid of magic and the occultation of the woods or mountains, where he fed only upon grasses and roots, he prepared himself to become a shaman. By this method, it was conceded, the candidate's body became sufficiently purified to become the abiding place of the spirits, and all successful shamans had to have numerous spirits at their immediate command. Usually the spirit willing to abide with the shaman sent the novice to a land otter which the candidate killed. The otter's tongue he preserved as a talisman away from all human view, for should the talisman ever be seen, it was believed the shaman would go insane or be turned into the animal from which the tongue was taken. The skin of the otter was kept by the shaman as a sign of his profession.

Otter a Sacred Animal.
Thus it came about that the land otter was regarded as too sacred an animal to be killed by other than the shamans, and neither Aleutian natives nor those of the mainland would kill the otter until long after the coming of the Russians.

Sometimes it happened that the fasting and prayer in solitude did not bring to the would-be shaman the spirits craved. In this emergency he took himself, still fasting, to the grave of some deceased shaman and passed a night with the corpse, taking one of the teeth of the cadaver in his mouth. Upon the shaman's return to his tribe his skill was then tested by a shaman of known powers.

For each spirit which the shaman could produce he had a separate wooden mask with features as horrible as the tastes of the carver could devise.

Healer and Prophet.

The shaman had many duties to perform. He was supposed to heal the sick, to cast out the evil spirits from the frail bodies of his subjects, to foretell the future, and with the aid of his spirits to enable one to avoid misfortune and disaster. The tricks of his trade, paraphernalia and charms generally descended from father to son. The shaman's hair was never cut, for to lose his locks would be to lose his powers. When he died he was not cremated. After death his body was allowed to remain in the spot where death came for 24 hours, so that the wandering spirit might find its tenement of clay should it so desire. When two suns had waned the body was removed to another corner of the house, this procedure continuing until the body had rested in every corner. Meanwhile the inmates of the house fasted.

At last, dressed in full regalia, the body was lashed to a board. One of the two bone sticks used by every well-acquainted shaman was placed through the hair and the other through the orifice cut in the nose. The head was covered with a basket woven of small twigs and grass, and at night the body was carried secretly to some remote cavern or crevice. Thereafter the members of the tribe never entered this burial place, for it was supposed to be filled with evil spirits.

Mr. Bourke's collection of native masks, weapons and utensils is said to be one of the finest in Alaska.

MANY SURPRISES

VICTORY OF DEMOCRATS IN NEW JERSEY OFFSETS LOSS IN KENTUCKY.

MARYLAND GOES DEMOCRATIC

Albert C. Ritchie Is Elected By 1,000 Majority, Closest Election Ever Known.

Chicago, Nov. 5.—Complete returns today made no change in the early results of yesterday's election. The smashing victory of Calvin Coolidge, Republican, in Massachusetts, elected to succeed himself as Governor, was emphasized as complete totals poured in. His plurality over Richard Long, Democrat, was 124,427.

New Jersey went Democratic. State Senator Edward L. Edwards, Democrat, running on an anti-prohibition platform, was elected governor over State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee by a plurality of 14,078, reversing the Republican majority of the last election.

Kentucky elected Edwin P. Morrow, Republican, by a majority of 29,992 votes on the face of unofficial returns, which were incomplete tonight. Republican State headquarters claim his election by 35,000 majority.

Albert C. Ritchie, Democrat, was elected governor of Maryland over Harry W. Nice by approximately 342 votes. It was the closest election ever held in the State. Nice's manager refuses to concede Mr. Ritchie's election.

Local issues complicated the fight in Massachusetts, where the police strike issue was said to underlie the purely party division at the polls. Long had appealed to the labor vote, while Gov. Coolidge stood squarely on his record in dealing with the Boston police strike and rolled up his enormous plurality.

Wilson Congratulates.

President Wilson sent a message of congratulation to Coolidge and messages laudatory of the victory for law and order poured in from all over the country.

Republicans claim to control the lower house of the Kentucky legislature while the Democrats will control the Senate. The wet and dry fight entered into Kentucky's political situation. Returns on the State-wide prohibition amendment continue to come in slowly, 84 counties still being missing.

Unofficial returns from 36 counties up to tonight indicated a majority of 18,963 against the amendment. Kentucky anti-saloon league officials tonight declared it was impossible to say whether the amendment had been defeated or accepted.

Tabulators have received only meager returns on the amendment which would remove peace officials who fail to protect prisoners from mobs.

In Mississippi, Lee M. Russell, Democrat, was elected Governor, being opposed by a socialist who polled only 10,000 votes. The legislature will be solidly Democratic.

Complete returns from the election for the New York State Assembly show that the Republicans elected 108 out of 150 members, a gain of 15 votes over their plurality last year. Democrats elected 38 members as compared with 54 last year while the Socialists again sent to members to the lower branch of the legislature.

Both women who served at the last session were defeated for re-election by men. Mrs. Mary M. Lilly, Democrat, lost to Noel B. Fox, in the seventh district, while Mrs. Ida M. Sammis, a Republican, was defeated by William G. Carroll in the second district of Suffolk.

Two other women will sit at the next session, however, Dr. Elizabeth Van R. Gillette, Democrat, having won from the man who defeated her last year and Margaret L. Smith, Republican, who ousted Martin J. Nealey, Democrat.

Thaddeus Sweet who was the speaker or the assembly last session, won over Miss Dickerson, although she had the support of the Democrats, socialists, prohibitionists, and women's organizations.

Returns from Virginia show slight Republican gains in the general assembly but nothing indicating any change from the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both branches. No State officials were voted for. Lynchburg and Newport News adopted the city manager form of municipal government.

Rep. F. H. LaGuardia, Republican, defeated Robert L. Moran, Democrat, for presidency of the board of aldermen of New York City, by 1,363 votes. An official recount will be asked for.

Republicans will dominate the Illinois State Constitutional Convention called for next year. Three public policy questions, whether to instruct delegates to vote for the initiative and referendum; the gateway amendment, which would require a separate vote on the initiative and referendum, and that of public ownership which would permit cities to acquire income producing utilities, were carried. Apparently 81 Republicans, 56 from down state and 26 from Cook county were elected for the constitutional convention while 21 Democrats, 12 from Cook county, were chosen.

In Philadelphia, Representative J. Hampton Moore, Republican, scored an easy victory for mayor and in San Francisco James Rolph, Jr., was swept into office as mayor for the third time in a non-partisan fight, defeating former Mayor Eugene F. Schmitz.

Cicada a Dainty Feeder.

The real locust is an indiscriminate eater, grain fields, cornfields, meadows, pastures, weed patches—everything falls before him. The periodical cicada is dainty almost beyond belief. It was long believed that in the adult stage it took no nourishment at all. But the "seventeen-year locust" does eat while in the adult age, its diet being confined to the juices of plants, sucked out in very small quantities and without causing injury.

Enormous Gas Waste.

Poor construction of pipe lines is the cause assigned for the loss in one year of natural gas valued at $9,000,000 in the states of Missouri and Kansas alone.

CALLS RED-CROSS BUTTON BADGE OF AMERICANISM

Washington, D. C.—"Wear your button" is the urgent word from National Headquarters of the American Red Cross, calling every citizen to join during the Third Roll Call and to display the Red Cross emblem conspicuously.

"The Badge of Americanism" this year consists of a neat little celluloid button of white, bearing in its center a Red Cross beneath which are the figures "1919" in blue.

"It should be a distinct source of pride to every American to wear this button, which represents so much to suffering humanity the world over," the statement adds. "Keep it in view throughout the Roll Call for it will save you from embarrassment during the last two days, when every citizen not wearing a Red Cross button will be solicited to join."

"WEAR —A— BUTTON"

AMERICAN LEGION TO HELP RED CROSS DRIVE

Posts of the American Legion are pledging their support in the Third Red Cross Roll Call for universal membership November 2-11.

Recently the Ohio state executive meeting of the organization passed a resolution "that our committee approve of the Third Red Cross Roll Call and urge upon local posts throughout the state to co-operate with and do all within their power towards the upbuilding of the splendid body of men and women who gave so splendidly of their time, work and money in support of the troops in the field."

In Kentucky the Legion is enthusiastically supporting the Red Cross in its plans for universal membership.

A letter from the state headquarters of the organization emphasizing this statement is to be sent to the 217 posts of the legion in this state.

The completion of relief work abroad undertaken during the war, the re-establishment of the ex-service men satisfactorily in civilian life, and the care of the needy families not aided by other organizations, are important features of the Red Cross peace program of interest to American Legion members.

Other peace time activities of the Red Cross are disaster and epidemic relief, instruction in home hygiene, dietetics and first aid, continued Junior Red Cross activities and an extension of home service work to unmet community needs.

STATESMAN PREPARES RED CROSS ROLL CALL AD

SECRETARY of the Interior Franklin K. Lane, in the midst of a busy day, finds time to do his share to help along the Third Red Cross Roll Call for members.

His copy for the Red Cross ad quoted below is being used widespread in the country in connection with the November 2-11 drive for members.

D. P. McCoy, of LaFayette, loses his crop of 11 Acres of Tobacco.

D. P. McCoy, of the LaFayette neighborhood, lost his barn by fire Wednesday night, with his crop of 11 acres of tobacco. The fire originated in the top of the barn from sparks in the dry tobacco. The loss was heavy and the insurance small.

TWO TEACHERS KILLED BY TRAIN NEAR LOUISVILLE

Miss Lena Shennum, 26, of Gannett, and Miss Maud Fencil, 22, of Farnkfort, Ky., who since September had been teaching in Jefferson county, were instantly killed at 7:30 o'clock Thursday morning when they were struck by a L. H. & St. L. passenger train at Medora, while they were on their way to school.

The accident was due to the fact that a passing freight train drowned out the noise of the approaching train and the young women, after waiting for the freight to pass, stepped on the track directly in front of the on-rushing passenger, which was going at high speed on its way to Louisville.

Miss Shennum was hurled against the caboose of a freight train with such force that her head was severed.

Miss Fencil was thrown thirty feet away. She was not mangled but died instantly.

Pauline McCoy, 13 years old, who attended the school, was looking out the window of her home a short distance away with her mother, Mrs. Eva McCoy, and saw her teachers killed. Mrs. McCoy said Miss Fencil grasped Miss Shennum as though to drag her out of danger.

COURT MOVE IS NEXT IN STRIKE

ASSISTANT ATTORNEY GENERAL AMES' STATEMENT KILLS HOPE FOR EARLY END

SAYS STRIKE IS UNLAWFUL

President Wilson Signs Orders Restricting Fuel Administration Wartime Powers.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Organized Labor's proposal for ending the coal strike through withdrawal of injunction proceedings against officers of the United Mine Workers of America was bluntly rejected by the Department of Justice.

The government's answer to the union suggestion advanced by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, was given by Assistant Attorney General Ames, who declared the strike in itself was a violation of law and that as long as it continued the only place to fight it out was in the court.

Labor leaders, visibly disturbed by this refusal, agreed with the operators on one important point—that the statement of the government's position swept away all hope of immediate settlement of the strike involving more than 400,000 soft coal miners in 28 states.

The restraining order issued by Federal Judge Anderson at Indianapolis last week was made returnable Saturday. Consul for the miners will go into court tomorrow and ask for dismissal of all proceedings. One of two things will happen:

The court, according to officials here, either will grant the plea of the miners or continue the temporary injunction until a later date for a final hearing and put into effect a mandatory order to John L. Lewis, acting president of the miners' organization to call off the strike.

THE BAPTIST 75 MILLION PLEDGE CARD.

Interest has developed in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign so rapidly that inquiry is frequently being made as to the pledge that will be made and the kind of a card to be signed. It is self explanatory and were are reproducing a form of it for those interested.

THE BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN Pledge Card.

..... Total Pledge: Date
Because of my interest in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, and my love for the causes involved, for Christ and a lost world; and in order to contribute my part to make the campaign a success, I hereby promise to pay, through my church, to this fund the sum of $..... payable in five years as follows: cash, and the balance, monthly or weekly or

This pledge is in addition to my regular contributions to all local church expenses and equipment.

Signed
Church
Association

Address

1. It is understood that if I move my church membership during the five year period, I will pay the unpaid balance of the pledge through the church where I place my membership.

2. It is hereby agreed that if I lose my health, die or in case of misfortune to such an extent that I lose my earning capacity, this pledge is not binding on me or my family, unless they choose to pay it.

3. It is understood that if I have any unpaid pledge to any of the causes included in this campaign at the time this pledge is made it becomes a part of this pledge.

Whatever the court does is in itself expected to be the next important move bearing on the question of settling the strike.

Representatives of the miners and other labor leaders emphasized today that withdrawal of court proceedings would bring peace to the coal fields within 48 hours. Lewis' statement that the miners would be willing to negotiate a new wage agreement without reservations meant, they said, that the slate would be wiped clean and demands for a five-day week and six-hour day, together with a 60 per cent. wage increase, withdrawn. But labor leaders declare there was no hope of miners returning to work in a body until the new wage agreement had been ratified.

President Wilson, sick in bed, yet mindful of the serious conditions confronting the country with a protracted strike, issued orders given Fuel Administrator Garfield authority to regulate price, distribution and shipment of all fuel, including anthracite. This action restored all powers vested in Dr. Garfield during the war. The fuel administrator was in conference continually checking up on the coal supply and arranging with Director General Hines of the railroad administration for its distribution where most needed.

Request for federal troops to guard the coal mines was made by Kentucky operators who conferred today with Fuel Administrator Garfield. Threats made against the continuance of operators necessitated protection to insure continued production of coal, it was stated.

THE 1931 CAMPAIGN AFFECTS KENTUCKY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

Because of the interest in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign the churches of the State are growing a remarkable growth in every line of service, especially in this true concerning the Sunday School work, for within the past two months as many Sunday Schools have reached the A-1 Standard of Excellence as laid down by the Sunday School Board at Nashville, Tenn., as had reached the standard of nine months previous in this year. With the renewed activity on the part of leaders and with the enlistment of other people who had never before engaged in Sunday School work, the brightest future ever in Kentucky awaits the Sunday School developments, according to a statement made by State Secretary Rev. J. R. Black. The interest is such that it has taken the part of a friendly rivalry among many of the schools and there is a determination to win gloriously in the Sunday School work. At present there are 14 Standard schools, which is double the number accredited to the State of Kentucky for the year 1918. To reach this standard is not an easy task when it is known that there is to be half of all the teachers and officers in the Sunday School holding a Normal Course diploma and 60 per cent of all these must for three months attend a workers' council for a discussion and study of Sunday School interests.

The Evansville Courier sums it up in these explanatory sentences:

The Kentucky Republicans put their best foot forward this year. Ed Morrow was undoubtedly a very popular candidate; on the other hand, Governor Black was not especially strong in his own party and proved from the result in the eastern end of the state to have had little drawing power among his opponents. State issues also cut a large figure. The tax law and the school fund were matters of great dissatisfaction. While Senator Stanley is a brilliant orator and an able statesman, he is not eminently qualified for an administrator. Dissatisfaction grew out of his governorship is evidenced in the returns. The coal strike and the whiskey laws also had an effect.

COAL SUPPLY TAKEN

Washington, Nov. 5.—Complaining that the government has confiscated its coal supply in transit and that it will soon face the necessity of having to close down unless relief is obtained, the Mead Johnson Company of Evansville, which manufactures baby food, has appealed to Rep. Lohring, who has taken the matter up with the railroad administration.

THE AMERICAN LEGION

For "America First."

The stage is set for the National Convention of the American Legion at Minneapolis on Monday of next week. All physical arrangements for the meeting have been cared for. All the delegates are ready to entrain. Information on any and every subject that may come up has been compiled for the handy reference of the Legion's representatives. Copies of all bills proposing national legislation of interest to those formerly in service have been arranged for.

The eyes of the country are on Minneapolis. When the elected representatives of the million members and four million potential members of this largest and most truly American group assemble in the convention hall it might properly be said paraphrasing Napoleon, that all generations of Americans will look upon them.

No more solemn duty in the interest of their country ever rested upon the delegates than will fall upon them at Minneapolis. In these days, when selfish interest is banded into clans of profiteering piracy without any thoughts of the majority, the hope of the country lies in the splendid Americanism of this greatest of clans. While they are not going to be unkindful of their own rights and interests the members of this organization will be tempered in their actions by sanity and unselfish integrity. If they have any demands to make, these demands will be based equity.

No one can foresee what the American Legion will do on this issue of that. Prophecy will be foolhardy. These men are but lately returned from service. They returned with quickened minds and keener minds of perception. They found new conditions, and they saw the old conditions of existence in a new and clearer perspective. What their reactions have been and will be, Minneapolis alone can reveal after November 11.

No doubt the Legion members will have a word of advice to offer the Government on pending legislation affecting not only the interests of the men and women who were in the service but the interests of the 100,000,000 people who are in America. Whatever this advice may be—whether it relate to beneficial soldier laws or the future military policy of the country—it will be valuable advice.

There is no organization so truly representative of the entire United States as the American Legion. Its members are from every class. Geographically the membership takes in every state, territory, county, city and township. Those who are its members were taken in equal proportion from those districts for service during the war. Maine at one extreme of the Atlantic coast has 8, 000 members, Florida has 6,000. On the other coast California has 20,000 members, Oregon 10,000. Minnesota has more than 35,000, Arizona more than 3,000, New York more than 85,000. Nevada, the smallest state in number of men in service, has nearly 1,000 members. So the Legion's voice truly reflects every part of America. The views of every section and of every class will be heard on every subject that is brought before the convention for consideration.

BETTER PROVISION PROMISED PASTORS

BAPTIST 75 MILLION CAMPAIGN WILL RAISE BIG SUM FOR RETIRED MINISTERS.

CARE FOR THE WIDOWS, TOO

Total of $5,000,000 Included On Program For This Purpose—Insurance Feature Also Included.

REV. J. M. RUSSELL
Typical Retired Minister.

While the salaries paid the ministers of Baptist, as well as other churches in the South, have been far too small in the past to enable them to lay aside a competency for old age, a long step in remedying this situation is promised in the Baptist 75 Million Campaign, which proposes to raise $2,500,000 for the relief of aged ministers during the next five years, and then bring the sum up to $5,000,000 during the two years immediately following the campaign.

Looking to the adequate care of hundreds of aged Baptist ministers and ministers' widows in the ranks of the Southern Baptist Convention who are now in need of financial assistance, this body, at a recent session, authorized the creation of the Relief and Annuity Board at Dallas, Texas, with Dr. William Lunsford as corresponding secretary.

Heretofore the average annual salary of Baptist ministers in the South has been less than $500, meaning that a large number of preachers received considerably less than that sum, making it necessary that they engage in other occupations during the week in order to support themselves and their families, and rendering it practically impossible for them to lay aside any money as a support for their old age.

The establishment of the Relief and Annuity Board and the decision to raise $5,000,000 during the next seven years for the relief of the aged ministers already in need of assistance and the more adequate care of the men who hereafter give their lives to the Christian ministry without an opportunity to save up a competency to tide them through sickness or care for them in their declining days, has met with a cordial reception at the hands of Southern Baptists, and it is believed the provision of better treatment for the ministers in their retirement will not only tend to cause young men to look with greater favor upon the ministry as a life work, but will bring the members of local congregations generally to see the need of paying pastors more adequate salaries before these pastors become old and helpless.

By the addition of an annuity feature it is possible for retired ministers to receive an annuity of $500 after they have reached the age of 68, and provided they have been in the ministry for thirty years. If they have served less than 30 years the annuity is reduced by a certain proportion. To participate in this annuity a minister must make monthly, quarterly or annual payments sufficient to bring in an income of $100 per year when invested, on the principle of regular life insurance, while this is supplemented by $400 provided by the denomination. A minister's participation in the annuity fund is in addition to his claims upon the relief fund.

If the minister is disabled at any time after joining the annuity fund, he will receive a certain annuity throughout the period of disability. If he dies his widow will receive an annuity of 60 per cent of what would have gone to her husband as long as she lives, and should the widow die her annuity will be divided among minor children until they become self-supporting, marry or reach the age of 21.

The board has received an endowment of $100,000 from the Baptist Sunday School Board at Nashville not included in the 75 Million Campaign, and this sum will be divided equally between the relief and annuity departments. This enables the board to begin work immediately and assistance is already being given to 285 aged ministers and ministers' widows.

COAL HERE

Only Seven Cars Released For This Week and Shortage May Be Acute.

Mayor Bassett's visit to Louisville the first of the week resulted in relieving the coal shortage to some extent.

Each of the seven coal dealers was promised one car this week and the cars came in yesterday. In addition 14 cars—two to each dealer—were promised for next week.

A car was consigned to Forbes Manufacturing Company one half of which was to be used to relieve the threatened shortage at Bethel College, and the rest by the Forbes employees, but the car was taken from the company after its arrival and given to one of the mills. It is supposed it will be replaced. The amount of coal promised does not permit any large amount to be sent to any one person. It is barely enough to supply emergencies.
